ADVOCACY GROUPS

American Coalition for Fathers and Children

Children's Rights Council (CRC) is a nonprofit organization founded in 1985. The CRC is a strong advocate for the active involvement of both parents in raising a child. They're so dedicated to this idea that their tagline is "The Best Parent is Both Parents."

National Parents' Organization (NPO) is a nonprofit group that advocates for a child's right to love and be cared for by both parents. The organization encourages shared parenting and works to protect equal rights, as well as equal responsibilities, for both parents.

Dads Divorce

Dads Divorce is dedicated to educating fathers on the issues of divorce, child custody, and child support. The website provides great tools, like a child support calculator or list of state divorce laws.

Fathers looking for information and a support network about divorce and child custody can explore the Cordell & Cordell's Men's Divorce Podcast

Dads America

Dads America, also known as Dads Against Discrimination (DADS), empowers fathers to take charge of their families through father custody options. With the tagline, "Fathers Are Families' Best Bet," the national organization advocates for fathers' rights in legislative and executive entities throughout the United States.

The Fathers' Rights Movement is a collective of passionate members who empower fathers to stand up for their rights and educate the public and family court system about the importance of fathers in society. They have many chapters throughout the United States, U.S. territories, Canada, and internationally which coordinate with location-specific social media pages.

The Fathers' Rights Network supports the idea that every child has two parents they need access to. This free resource provides information on men and family issues, government news, alimony and support, and more. There is even a section dedicated to contacting a congressional office with directions on how to write to legislators and get active in the community.
